	Attorney, Jay Sekulow, informed viewers that there is a new curriculum being presented in the school systems that is dangerous. The series is called "Impressions" and is occultic, goulish and frightening, containing stories that are being presented as classics but in actuality are re-written to contain occultic themes. Also discussed was a quote from "Psychology Today" that said Jesus and Old Testament Bible stories should be presented to young children as myths, a news report of methods now being used to introduce gay and lesbian techniques into the school system and reports that sex education to young students is back-firing causing greater sex e perimentation in grade school youngsters. Viewers were challenged to keep informed, know what their children's school curriculum contains and be prepared to fight for their standards to be upheld.

Douglass, Jr. Douglass says it was for the purpose of debilitation the U.S. from within. Rachel Ehrenfiled, a criminologist, outlined the symbiotic relationship between drug traffickers and terriorism by the U.S.S.R. through Castro and Noriega. Douglass stated the problem exists to avoid disturbing the Soviet and Chinese relations with the U.S. He said the mid-east countries are also heavily involved. Viewers were told to start listening for details upcoming in news reports from all media sources. 59:30 PA/O THE 700 CLUB #0304-91 10:00 REC 03-04-91 3:00P Sheila Walsh introduced Barry Taylor, the exsoundman for the rock group called AC/DC. Barry told viewers about his excessess in drugs, sex and life style. His drug abuse was so extensive that it resulted in seizures by the time he was 20 years old. He became so alarmed at his own physical condition that he was determined to do something to get off drugs. He was unable to do this alone and attributed his ability to get off drugs to his personal relationship with Jesus Christ. Viewers were told to start reconginging their level of drug abuse and get help. 26:46 REC PA/O THE 700 CLUB #0306-91 59:30 03-06-91 3:00P Pat Robertson introduced two quests, Alish Joseph and Julie Marrow. Both women related the facts about teir drug involvement and being victimized by rape. Alisha had been into drug abuse and Julie was in a situation where she was slipped drugs in a drink. Viewers were informed about the details of the crime in both cases and the Smokey said that in 1984 personal changes in his life effected him emotionally and at the time cocaine sounded like fun. He then explained the subtle way cocaine becomes addictive and begins to kill the user. Smokey consistantly thought he could quit, telling himself that other drugs were taboo but cocaine was elite. Cocaine accessibility was described along with the effects on the human body. The knowledge that he was trapped by his addiction was embarrassing, frightening and emotionally crippling. Smbkey explained hes career in music and then addressed those in the audience that were drug addicted, telling them that there was a way out and that the permanent solution for him was his relationship with Jesus Christ. Viewers were challenged to get medical, emotional and spiritual help if they were drug addicted. Abuse Cont	John Read from the Santa Ana Police Dept and Bruce Hessler of the Irvine, CA Police Dept explained D.A.R.E. to host, Jim McClellan. DARE is a program that teaches methods of resistance that can be used to resist drugs and to establish a good liason rela- tionship between the Police Department and young children and teenagers. Prevention of drug abuse through this program begins in the grade school level and goes through Jr High School and helps kids prepare for peer pressure they will get in High School. A separate program division addressed High School age youth and teaches them to prepare for adult responsi- bility toward drugs and alcohol.

	Jim McClellan intriduced Dr. Alexander De Jong, author of "Alcoholism and Co-Dependency". Viewers were told that there are "coping alcoholics" such as presidents of companies that carry on a daily workload. Dt. De Jong described alcohol addition as a "monkey on your back" and Jim McClellan told viewers that they must learn to recognize generational "red flags" which indicate the tendency toward alcoholism. Examples of life pressures that result in people turning toward alcohol to relax and be able to cope were given. Viewers were told that alcoholics can drink and keep control and that a drunkard can quit but an alcoholic cannot. Steps to take to begin to recognize alcohol as a personal problem and steps to take to get help were given.

drugs. They also confronted the main drug wupplier on Chicago's South side. Sheila Walsh interviewed Rita Webb Smith from Harlen, living alone with seven children she experienced the deteriotation of her neighborhood to drugs so she used her position as a social worker to break down barriers by setting up a hot line using code names for drug informers. After she won her "war" she turned her attention to the housing problem in her area. She authored a book called, "The Woman Who Took Back Her Streets". Viewers were challanged to begin to do something to help the war against drugs. Also interviewed was David McGee a former drug dealer who gave testimony of his life before drugs and after becoming drug free.
